TRANSPORT SYSTEM

Integrated Fare System

The Integrated Fare System means that you can use different modes of transportation (metro, urban buses, metropolitan and interurban buses, tram, Ferrocarrils de la Generalitat de Catalunya trains, and Catalonia's Commuter trains) with a single travel card, which means you don't have to pay again when transferring from one to another. Under this system, you can use four types of transportation and make three transfers within a specified area and time period for the number of zones for which the travel card is valid. More information is available on the ATM website.

Single urban ticket: €2.4

Example of the integrated fare system: T-10 card "zone 1" €11.35 is a multi-personal travel card valid for 10 intermodal trips for 1 zone. In this case, passengers have 75 minutes between the first and last validation when changing lines or modes of transportation. This time increases by 15 minutes for each zone.

Points of sale:

- Metro ticket machines.
- TMB customer service and information centers (Punt TMB).
- Integrated Fare System's network distributor operator.
